Testimonial for Liam Kelly of Ready 4 Retail

We recently were asked to install a mix of new and second-hand light fittings to a plush office.

The project was planned to take three days which was tight on time as the office was occupied leaving little room for errors.

As the project progressed and the light fittings arrived on site and were checked to became obvious that several of the second-hand light fittings were scuffed and would not be acceptable to the client.

After much head scratching and worry, I remembered the excellent repairs Liam had carried out to one of vans so gave him a call, after describing our problem to Liam he offered to take a look at the damaged fittings confident he could do something with them.

As soon as Liam saw the light fittings he was confident he could do something with them and said they would be ready first thing in the morning. When I returned to pick them up I was pleasantly suprised by the results – not only did the colour match perfectly but they looked brand new.

I know re-spraying light fittings isn't Liam's usual type of job, I dare say it could have been his first, but it goes to show the positive attitude, expertise and care Liam and the rest of the Read 4 Retail team take over all of their customers.

Thank you Liam, the service we received was invaluable to our business. It goes without saying we will recommend Ready 4 Retail at every opportunity.
